7.01 Responsible Investing

(a) Consistent with its obligation to act in the best interests of the Funds, the University chooses investments and investment managers that it believes will manage investment risk and deliver sustainable financial performance over the long term. In this regard, the University's responsible investing approach is to consider environmental, social and governance ('ESG') factors in selecting investment managers with whom it invests the assets of the Funds as well as investment assets that are directly held. The University recognizes, however, that managers may consider ESG factors in different ways in assessing whether a given investment will have the best economic outcome. In order to protect and enhance the value of the Funds, when selecting investment managers or direct investments, the University considers criteria that include: the investment manager's business and staff; historical performance; and the manager's consideration of ESG factors in the investment process. As well, the proactive disclosure and analysis of ESG factors by the investment manager will be considered in the monitoring of, and ongoing decisions pertaining to the retention of, investment managers.

(b) For the purposes of this section, ESG factors refer to environmental, social and governance factors relevant to an investment that may have a financial impact on that investment. It is accepted that the understanding of and impact from ESG factors may change over time.

- (c) The responsible investment approach is applicable to assets of the Funds invested in listed equities and listed infrastructure. Other asset classes will be considered, including fixed income, to the extent that the investment manager has discretion for the portfolio and sufficient data is available to evaluate ESG factors.
